Kevin,

I am sure you understand it will be my defense team that will make any arguments that Steve and I may have. I also feel that choosing Mr Velasquez is because he's running for Commander-n-Chief and that is against the "Norm" of how the National VFW Commander is chosen as we all know. Probably with hopes that he will violate some bylaw or ritual during this hearing and put him out of the running. I am very well aware of how the National Commander is chosen and there has never been a running mate. The Pot thickens and the conspiracies continue.

And by no means is this panel a "panel of my Peers", may a panel of Dan wests Snakes as I've said before. If the National Commander chooses a impartial panel that would be great but as I have been advised by those who have served on a panel etc the List of Panel members came from Dan West or in that office to BJ for approval. They were not hand picked by BJ and we both know this to be true. So panel of my peers I think not.

Hopefully an agreement can be reached in the very near future

Respectfully,

Stephanie
